Why use CSA?

BUT....

- Content is scholarly
- Index is sophisticated
- Uses descriptors – standard, accepted terms for concepts.
- Offers articles with references – you can use these to find MORE
- Loves RefWorks
- Little full-text. CSA doesn't “own” much content – its strength is in indexing citations
- Little general interest articles or news. Think of cited articles with bibliographies. Is this what you want?

Final faculty opportunity for Serials Review input

The Library is in the final stages of completing its serials review this fiscal year. This will be the last opportunity for faculty input this year.

Please provide your feedback at the following web page:

<http://library.nps.navy.mil/home/2005%20Periodical%20Review>

no later than July 21 so we can review your comments and make the necessary changes.

Library Classes are Back!

Want to make your time in research COUNT?
Spend less time searching, and more time finding.

Library classes are back! Starting this week, the library will be offering a wide array of free, single-session classes designed to help you get what you need out of the online resources you have access to here at NPS.

What is RefWorks?

RefWorks is bibliographic management software. Users can import and organize citations found in online databases and format them in papers, reference lists and bibliographies. Therefore, it is a valuable tool for researchers and students.

TIP: The current schedule for library workshops is available at
